SB BUZZ

• Cher, Joel Schumacher and director Andy Davis have recently called on the talents of designer extraordinaire Steve Handelman to fill their homes with his exquisite ironwork. His pieces, reflecting our own SB-style, are exhibited at the Lobero Theatre, Santa Barbara Museum of Art as well as the happiest place on earth, the new California Disney theme park. Steve Handelman Studios, 716 N. Milpas, 962-5119.

• Miramar, Miramar, o' where for art thou, Miramar? Ian Shrager's property looks disheveled but don't lose heart. Interest is keen among local investment groups to help those boys out. Just figuring out who gets the bigger piece of the pie...

• Eli Parker, son of Fess Parker, anticipates that his new tasting room will attract California grape lovers a-plenty. For the authentic cellar experience, he contracted Los Olivos resident Shannon Scott to create the interior ambiance. *Epiphany Cellars, 3563 Numancia St., Santa Ynez; 686-2424, www.epiphanycellars.com.
