

FREE

17 Mar – 13 Apr 2005
Vol. 3 Issue 3

PLUS

HoofBeats:

Riding with Reagan, John Barletta writes to remember, p. 16

At the Galleries:

Sarah Chamberlin, Lindy Kern, and Craig Petersen, and Jane Schwartzwalter, on display, p. 20

Real Estate:

Is Valley property overvalued? John Kendall analyzes, p. 24

THE SANTA YNEZ

Valley

JOURNAL

THE SANTA MARIA CIRCUS

A day at the Michael Jackson trial with MSNBC legal analyst (and former SB County Sheriff) Jim Thomas, p. 7

SCENE IN THE VALLEY, P. 26 • CALENDAR OF EVENTS, P. 29 • GUIDE TO VALLEY EATERIES, P. 32

LOCAL PEOPLE

by Eva Van Prooyen

Shannon Scott, owner of Shannon Scott Design preserves the historic value in the properties she renovates

AROUND THE TOWNS

Continued from page 30

Preserving Historic Value

Shannon Scott Design, a Los Olivos based design team, has been recruited to renovate Montecito's prestigious Birnam Wood private and historic country club.

"They've got 18 cottages and we're basically updating them completely, renovating bathrooms, and giving them a fresh new look," says Shannon Scott. "We love the historical value of properties," she adds, noting that the club was originally a lemon grove. "We'll bring in the history with the colors of yellow and greens and adding in a deep pinky red to warm them up."

The main clubhouse was once the lemon-packing building and some of the artwork will be, "using their existing antique prints and adding photographs and engravings of the property and packing labels. Fun colorful old labels." Shannon Scott Design is currently working on a spa project in Paso Robles and recently completed the Montecito Inn, University Club of Santa Barbara, and the Consilience tasting room on Grand Avenue in Los Olivos.

"We're a more environmental company, using green materials, and preserving historic value, focusing on 'sacred spaces', and hot to make people feel at home and comfortable no matter where they are," says Shannon. For more information visit www.shannonscottedesign.com.